

Campus Plan Optimization: Workspace Planning

RESTACKING PLAN

5 September 2021

Campus Planning: Layers of Granularity

High Level Space Program

Order of magnitude space quantities based on key policy assumptions, and organizational strategies

Diagrammatic Space Program

Program requirements, including key adjacencies and spatial allocations with a consideration of architectural opportunities and boundaries

2020-21 Space Optimization Plan

Detailed recommendation for the allocation of space to instructional, faculty, administrative, library, and other uses) that achieves the desired design objectives.

2021-22 Implementation Plan

Detailed, floor by floor, departmental moves to achieve optimization plan for 2021 and 2022 academic year.

Planning Objectives

Vacate the 5th and 6th floors

Increase utilization and occupancy of remaining space

Create the opportunity for additional rental income

Maintain co-location by department where and when appropriate

Optimize departmental adjacencies where possible

Minimize number of moves required

Learn from Covid-19 operations over the past 18 months and determine workplace typologies and on-campus use frequency by role/employee

Increase the number of drop-in, unassigned spaces and decrease number of assigned spaces to increase utilization and occupancy of office spaces

What did we discover?

Everyone fits! (within the planning parameters we collectively defined in the approved campus plan) - great news...

90-95% accuracy at any given moment: living document; continually updated

What to expect

August: confirm restacking plans, space program, and technology provisions; move planning

September: finalize move planning and start first moves

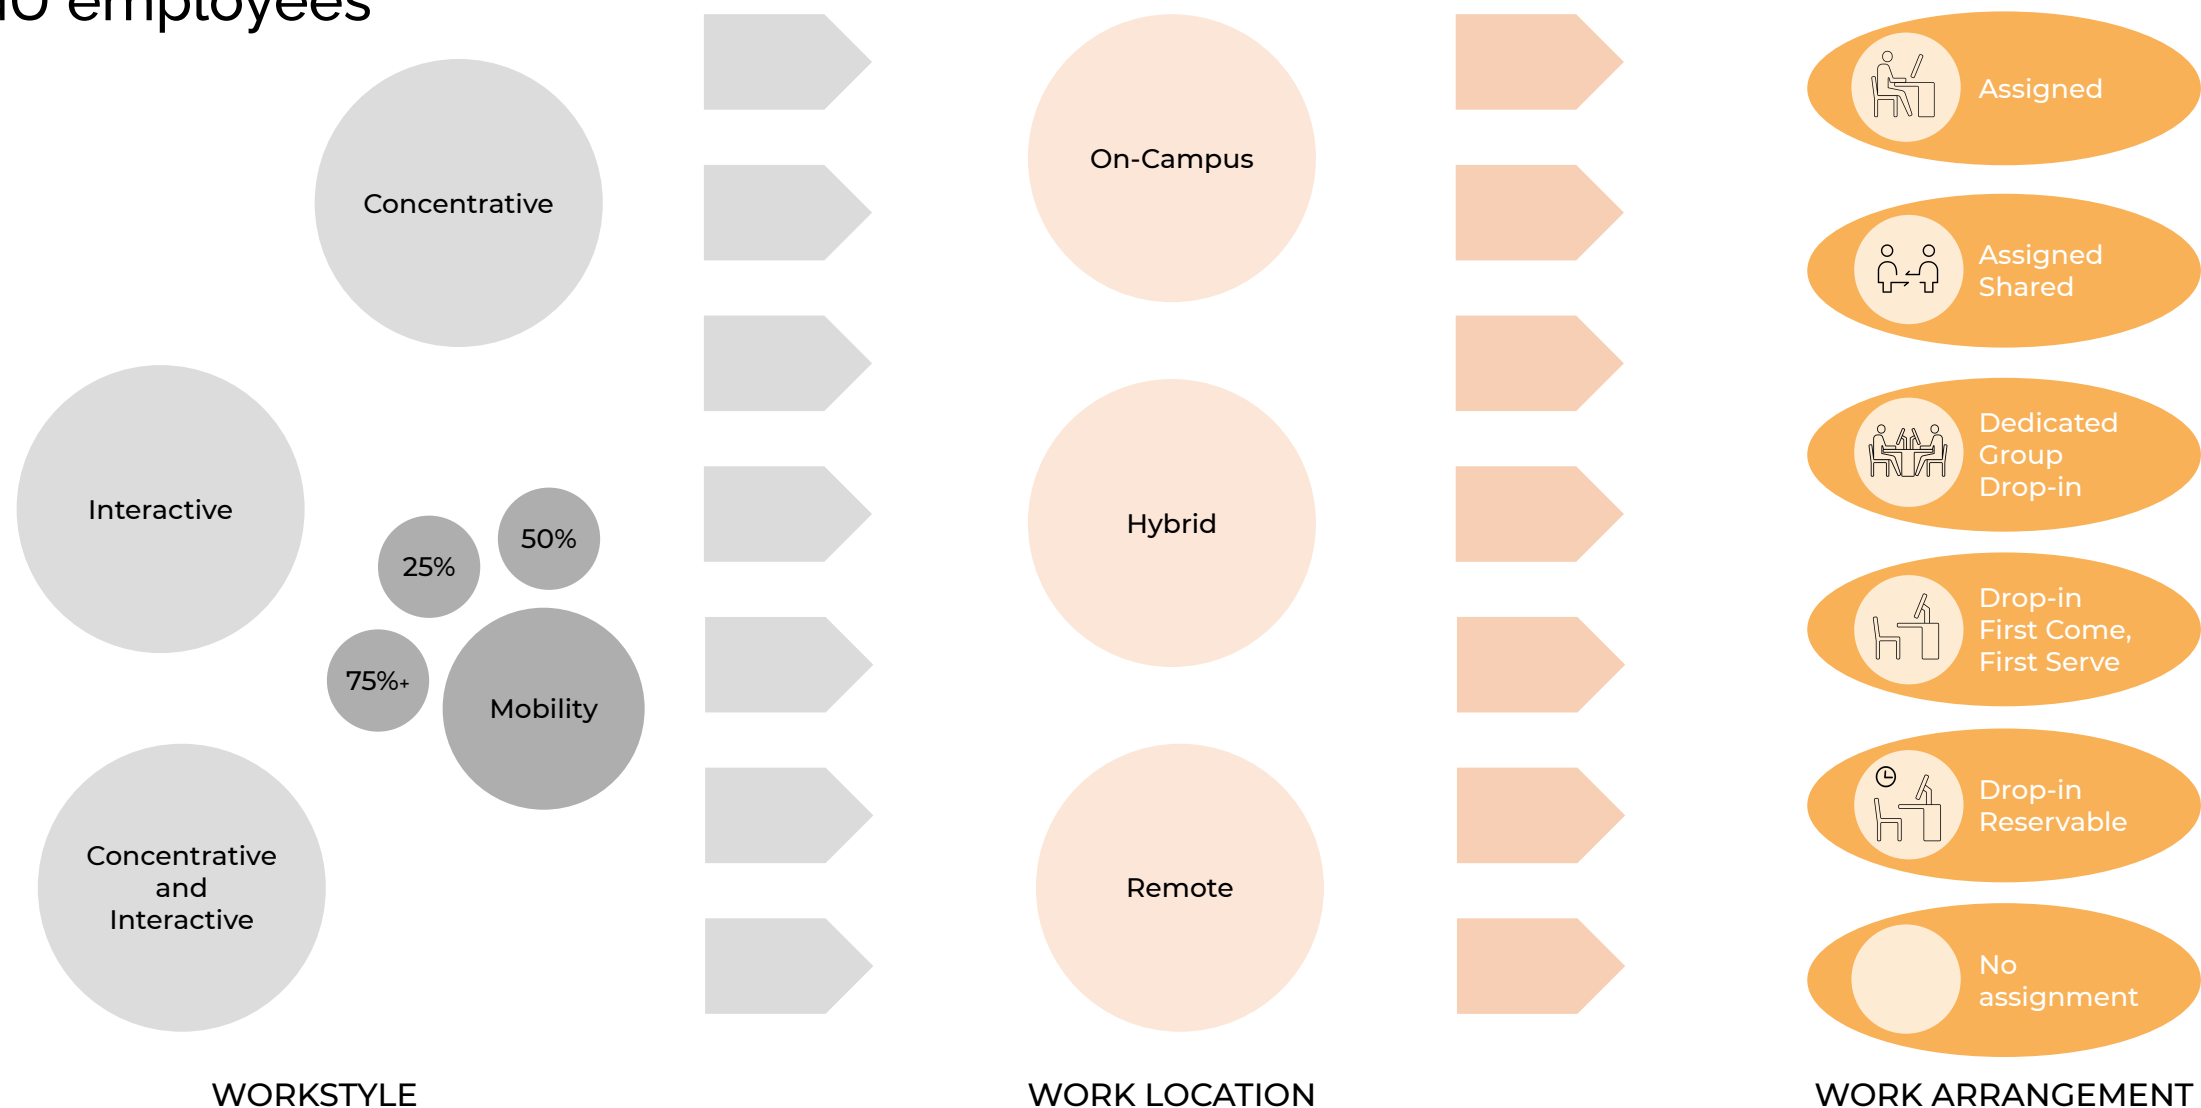

October - December: complete moves; communicate and guide employees regarding new policies and procedures

January: Spring 2022 commences with new locations and policies in place
